Accordingly, the consummation of the missionary mandate to make disciples of all nations (Matthew 28:19) is described in Revelation 5:9 as persons from "every tribe and language and people and nation" worshipping the Lamb and declaring the infinite worth of his glory. So the apostolic vocation (Romans 1:5) and the messianic example of Christ (Romans 15:9) and the consummation of all missions (Revelation 5:9) have one explicit aim: to display the glory of Christ through the ingathering of ...

Why Every Tribe and Language and People and Nation ...

Hay's From Every People and Nation is a great introductory text on race and ethnicity in the Bible. His exposition on the Genesis chapters are great, useful, and relevant for today. However in reading through it, I realized that Hays' focus is a quite limited in that he seems to be working from a primarily an American point of view, more specifically regarding racial tensions between Blacks and Whites.
