Got lucky and found a John Deere 30 inch hydraulic tiller with the extension already on it. the only problem is the seller would not let go of the lift brackets for it. I have a 3-point hitch on the 318, so all I need to do is make the lower brackets for the tiller lift arms. I like a good welding project.

I have a 30 inch hydraulic tiller on my 330 and it works great! Just finished fabbing up the upper and lower brackets and took it for a test drive. Very impressed so far! Just wondering if I can change the direction of the tines from forwards to backwards for breaking some harder ground? Any help would be appreciated. Sponsored Links Remove Advertisements.
