Rumpole The Confessions Of Guilt

Reviewed in the United Kingdom on 12 December 2009. Verified Purchase. Rumpole is a larger than life character who brings his own extraordinary eccentric dimension to the role of barrister where the likes of Kavanagh's dry persona falls short. It is a slightly tongue-in-cheek courtroom drama.

Rumpole of the Bailey is a British television series created and written by the British writer and barrister John Mortimer. It starred Leo McKern as Horace Rumpole, an elderly London barrister who defended a broad variety of clients, often underdogs. The TV series led to the stories being presented in other media including books and radio.

Rumpole of the Bailey - Wikipedia

Horace Rumpole is an iconoclastic, poetry-quoting "Old Bailey hack," whose irreverence is not particularly popular with judges. He has a dysfunctional marriage to "she who must be obeyed" and a rather tenuous one with Nick, his only son, who has always believed his father cares more for the Bailey than him. Although Nick is scheduled to leave for college in America, Rumpole opts to defend a Jamaican teenager who has apparently confessed to randomly stabbing a pedestrian at a bus stop after a ...
