The UV-8 and UV-8D are in a class by themselves. I was given a UV-8D and have spent many hours working on it. I have not been able to "crack" how the radio knows which channels are empty and which channels are programmed. It does not function the same as the UV-82 that it resembles. I set this project aside because I am at a loss as to how to overcome the issue. This is a shame because all ...
